From The Chairman . . .

It is always good to open my notes with positive news, and the addition of three new members to Midland Branch is certainly that. This month we welcome:

Barry Henson 22012 of Sutton in Ashfield
 Brian Slamo 22014 of Quinton, Birmingham
 Tim Deakin 22020 of Newcastle-under-Lyme

I look forward to meeting up at one of our events and hope you find your OS membership good value.

As so often the case, there is a debit side, and it is sad to record the passing of members Dennis Johnson of Alfreton in June and Robin Hannay in December. Our condolences go to Dennis's daughter Sue and family. Robin joined the Omnibus Society back in 1950 and was a long-time member of Midland Branch. His death deprives us of probably the greatest source of information on the history of Guy Motors. How fortunate that so much survives him in the form of books and letters to trade journals. Our sympathy goes out to his wife Jean and family.

You will have noticed that we have re-designed the front cover of our Branch Bulletin and I hope you all approve! December's cover featured Allan Field's excellent photo in Ludlow, and I think the portrait format enhanced the overall attractiveness of this cover. In January, a slight re-design occurred due to the lack of a suitable portrait format picture as I am sure that the vast majority of bus photos taken are landscape format. So, here's an opportunity to possibly get your photo on our front cover by taking a portrait format shot and sending to our Bulletin co-ordinator, Gary Nolan, with of course a suitable caption. You have been challenged!

The next Bulletin will be issue no. 600 and we intend to celebrate this milestone with an enhanced issue containing some special features. Extra printed copies could be made available if you do not normally receive same, but we need to know by 21 February and there will be a charge to cover the additional costs.

The summer programme of visits is slowly taking shape as you will see in the diary section. We must be very grateful to operators for allowing us to visit their premises when so many other priorities are on their agenda, so please support our visits programme this year. In particular, we are experimenting with a mid-week visit in May, and I would welcome your views on having an occasional change from our traditional Saturdays.

The Survival of The National Bus Strategy

For the first face-to-face talk for over 20 months, we welcomed Nigel Eggleton, National Chairman of the OS but here in his capacity as Managing Director of First South Yorkshire and the Midlands. Nigel was making a much-appreciated return to Midland Branch following his presentation with Philip Kirk in 2012 on Go West Midlands.

Nigel opened by showing us slides of earlier route promotions in his Midlands area, featuring Nimrod and The Salt Road at Worcester with the development of this process in the Potteries with a fleet of StreetLites destined for the Mainline with eye-catching interior branding featuring Minton mosaic patterns. Not to be outdone, Leicester was shown next with the recent branding of Frequent Fourteens, achieving a revenue uplift of 10%, which, Nigel reminded us, was the whole point of these exercises.

Nigel's more recent extension of responsibilities brought First South Yorkshire under his control. This was a significant challenge with a poor standard of fleet, challenging relationships with the PTE and lost mileage hitting 10%. A great deal of senior management time had to be devoted to a recovery programme, but Nigel had stressed at the beginning that this was not to be at the expense of the Midlands operations.

The poor political perception of First's image was improved by the adoption of a specific Sheffield livery, with a predominance of blue recalling the era of municipal transport in the City and a compelling strapline – "Proud to be part of Sheffield, our city of steel". There followed other marketing initiatives designed to emphasise First's roots in the local community – The Full Monty (Buses that go all the way); Henderson's Relish (Strong and Northern buses); and Bertie Bassett (Buses to all sorts of places in Sheffield).

First South Yorkshire has limited operation into the Midland Branch area, including the 272 service between Sheffield and Castleton which is jointly operated with Hulley's of Baslow. First South Yorkshire Volvo B7 37493 (YN08 PLF) is seen at Hope and carries the Bertie Bassett brand that Nigel referred to in his talk. (photo: Bob Telfer)

Sheffield is the largest but not the only operating centre for First in South Yorkshire and Doncaster was not to be forgotten in the process of identifying more closely with the local community. Here a livery of red with hints of purple was adopted, hinting back to the town's proud municipal operation. Rotherham, located between Sheffield and Doncaster, no longer had its own First depot and Nigel is working on the creation of a local identity for this important town.

Having summarised his efforts to improve the image of bus operation across his patch, Nigel turned to the issues affecting the day-to-day provision of services in these troubled times. The number of drivers leaving the industry is causing major problems in covering scheduled mileage. Driving being a front-line job with constant interface with the public, some drivers had opted for early retirement to avoid the potential health risks, others had left for more lucrative jobs in road haulage and yet others had unfortunately succumbed to Covid-19. Initially a number of drivers had been placed on furlough, had started to become accustomed to regular hours and no shifts and consequently sought alternative work with more congenial hours. This critical shortage is now compounded by short term absences of staff who require enforced isolation, and strenuous efforts are in hand to speed up the recruitment of driving staff. Nigel indicated that the most serious shortages at First's operations were currently in West of England (Bristol, Bath and Weston) and Glasgow.

The loss of patronage during the pandemic has been a major issue for First as well as for the rest of the industry. During the first three weeks of lockdown in March 2020, passenger levels fell to well below 20% of pre-Covid levels, and there have been many subsequent peaks and troughs related to the various changes in personal freedom caused by changing Government regulations. Whilst patronage levels have now reached almost 80% of pre-Covid levels, there is little sign of this improving, and this overall average figure hides significant geographical variances with Nigel quoting Rotherham local services as recovering more slowly than Leicester and Worcester. A further worry was that concessionary fare usage had only recovered to 60% of pre-Covid as the elderly were still showing reluctance to return to bus travel.

The publication of the National Bus Strategy – Buses Back Better had pre-dated the pandemic and was a welcome sign that the Government had recognised the importance of the bus in being part of the solution to the impending environmental crisis. The Strategy had placed a requirement on local authorities to work with operators to produce Bus Service Improvement Plans and considerable variances in quality had been apparent once these Plans had appeared. Nigel quoted Leicester's BSIP as a shining example of what could be achieved, with proposals for significant bus priorities and zero-emission buses. Regrettably the ambitions of local authorities, in submitting bids amounting to £8 billion in total across England, are certain to be crushed when this total is matched to the reported sum available from Government funds of £1.4 billion. Furthermore, the timescale for the implementation of Enhanced Partnerships, by which the draft proposals contained in the BSIPs would be submitted, has now slipped back to the end of April 2022.

Fortunately, HM Government has supported the bus industry with revenue grants during the pandemic to date, initially with Covid-19 Bus Service Support Grant continuing as Bus Recovery Grant which will expire at end-March 2022. Thus, without an extension of grant, and with revenues still likely to be well short of pre-Covid levels, operators will have little choice but to implement cost savings through reductions of service which action would be very much contrary to Buses Back Better. Nigel predicted nervous times ahead.

At the conclusion of his talk, Nigel ably fielded a range of questions, the answers to many requiring a look into a murky crystal ball! A vote of thanks was proposed by Gary Nolan resulting in a resounding burst of applause in appreciation of a most enjoyable and informative talk.

Bus Industry Funding – The Ups and Downs

Before the initial effects of Coronavirus in March 2020, buses were beginning to get the political recognition that had been missing for many years before. Buses outside of London were underfunded and unloved with operations impacted by growing and unpredictable traffic congestion, declining patronage, and consequential increases in pricing. There were pockets of success where operators and their Local Authorities recognised these challenges and worked together in partnership to bring some improvement for bus users by each using what little funding was available.

In some political corridors funding for buses corridors is considered to be excessive, with the misconception that operators are being subsidised through the Concessionary Fares Schemes, through Bus Service Operators Grant, and through the funding by Local Authorities for the provision of supported services. The facts are that concessionary reimbursement is a subsidy to the passenger and not the operator who in effect should be no better or no worse off by the scheme: BSOG is a partial (not full) rebate on the tax paid on fuel and the funding for supported services is exactly that, a payment for the provision of a service.

There is no doubt that numerous factors were causing bus use to be in decline and in October 2019 the Government finally recognised this and announced a package of funding under the title of A Better Deal For Bus Users. Updated in February 2020, just prior to the outbreak of Covid-19, the package recognised the importance of buses to society and promised extra funding of £220m including £20m for express bus lanes in the West Midlands and £30m to help LAs restore lost bus services and improve current services. The package also included the intention of creating an all-electric bus town.

In the same document was the Government's ambition to secure a long term, sustained improvement in bus services to be underpinned by a National Bus Strategy for England. The strategy would focus on the needs of passengers so that more people would want to use the bus and set out how national and local government and the private sector would come together to meet the needs of local communities.

The long-term vision for buses was to be accompanied by an equally long-term funding commitment through a review of funding for buses, including the existing grant funding (BSOG) to operators to ensure that investment will be focussed on meeting the needs of passengers, and provide an associated settlement.

In March 2021 that National Bus Strategy (NBS) was launched as Bus Back Better. It recognised the issues that are mentioned above: For governments of all colours before this one, the bus has been last in the queue, with a fraction of the investment and political attention given to other, shinier things. Traffic has increased, but bus priority has stagnated, and some councils are actually taking bus lanes out. As services get slower, they become more expensive to run and less attractive to passengers. It is a classic vicious circle, which we intend to break.

Recognising the impact Covid-19 had on bus use, the Strategy promised a committed £3bn of new money during the current Parliament (as part of the levelling up fund) to improve buses outside London. Armed with that transformational funding, this National Bus Strategy will build back better. Its central aim is to get more people travelling by bus – first, to get overall patronage back to its pre-COVID-19 level, and then to exceed it. We will only achieve this if we can make buses a practical and attractive alternative to the car for more people.

This was great news; however, the devil was in the detail and involved the creation of Bus Service Improvement Plans (BSIPs: see Bulletin 597 12) and did not suggest anywhere that part of the £3bn funding would be used to maintain reasonable service levels during the pandemic.

The timescale for BSIPs seemed to be rushed and gave Local Transport Authorities (of which there are 79) and bus operators little time to develop and agree their plans and funding bids, with the intention of using the Enhanced Partnership legislation (or Franchising as an alternative for Elected Mayoral Combined Authorities) to deliver their plans.

At this present time, we are awaiting an announcement from DfT about the bids, however there is no doubt that the scheme is oversubscribed with the Confederation of Passenger Transport (CPT) claiming the bids exceed £9bn when there is only £1.4bn of funding available. This has been confirmed by the DfT who wrote to LTAs on 11 January 2022 advising that:

Long-term Funding

Thank you for submitting your Bus Service Improvement Plan (BSIP) and for committing to the development of an Enhanced Partnership (EP) and/or beginning the statutory process of implementing bus franchising. We are pleased to see that all Local Transport Authorities are engaging with the Bus Back Better strategy, and we look forward to working with you to support the delivery of these plans. We continue to review and assess the BSIPs covering all 79 LTAs and expect to provide details of indicative funding by February 2022. This will recognise that the budget available for transformation, including for Zero Emission Buses, is around £1.4bn for the next three years and that prioritisation is inevitable, given the scale of the ambition across the country greatly exceeds this amount

The letter also advised that instead of LTAs submitting their Enhanced Partnership Scheme proposals by April 2022 they should now submit draft Plans but should progress with their plans to:

- Commit the relevant authority or authorities to continue providing existing bus priority measures
- Implement low or no cost improvements including Bus Passenger Charters (as referenced in para 99 of the BSIP guidance) and high-quality information for all passengers (as referenced in para one of the BSIP guidance).
- Be flexible to incorporate further enhancements through variation if funding becomes available

Just when the industry needed a significant boost, this delay could not have come at a worse time for both LTAs and operators. The impact of further Covid restrictions introduced by the Government in December last year in response to the outbreak of the Omicron variant has been that bus patronage fell again and as more cases became reported, so did the increase in staff absence with a detrimental effect on service reliability. The situation in some parts of the country has been so bad that temporary reduced timetables have been introduced – Route News has picked up on those in our Branch area. At a time when the industry is attempting to woo passengers back to buses with attractive fare offers and Covid safe measures, being unable to provide a full, and more importantly reliable service might be the straw that breaks the camel’s back.

In these circumstances, accurate customer information is essential and having endured many months of short notice timetable changes, staff safety concerns about social distancing and more working from home, customer information at the points of contact (bus stops and bus stations) has been almost non-existent with a greater use of online and social media channels. Those operators who expect customers to check online for updates every time before they travel will struggle and sadly this is becoming all too common. The staffing issue will no doubt recover but the practice of neglecting attention to customer information is within the control of the operator and LTA and must cease.

A Look Back at the Funding Lifelines.

It’s worth looking back at the various funding streams that have been in place during the pandemic to ensure that a reasonable level of service was maintained for key workers as patronage levels fell well below economic levels.

- In late March 2020 and to provide support to businesses, including bus operators to maintain some level of service for key workers despite seeing overall passenger numbers around 10% of normal levels, The Cabinet Office issued a Procurement Policy Note PPN 02/20 titled Supplier Relief due to COVID -19. This note set out guidance to public bodies on payment to their suppliers to ensure service continuity during and after the current COVID -19 outbreak. Local Transport Authorities therefore continued to pay concessionary reimbursement, tender payments and where applicable BSOG payments at pre COVID-19 levels. This meant bus operators did not see a falloff in these areas of income.
- A second lifeline came from the DfT on 6 April 2020 which recognised the importance of bus services during the outbreak and in wanting to maintain a good level of service despite limited demand, provided an ongoing payment of COVID-19 Bus Service Support Grant (CBSSG). The grant was effective from 17 March 2020 and was expected to run for three months being capped at £166.8m. The funding was to ensure that bus services continued to operate in the right places at the right time during the outbreak. All bus operators who received the grant were expected to run 50% of scheduled commercial mileage, to engage with their LA on service levels and network coverage and to accept ENCTS passes prior to 0930 - something which most operators and LAs had agreed and introduced very early on in the outbreak.
- On Saturday 23 May 2020, the Transport Secretary announced a further £254m of funding to help protect and increase services allowing people travelling to hospitals, supermarkets, or their place of work to get there quickly and safely while helping to ensure there was enough space to enable them to observe social distancing guidelines. The aim was to get full service up and running as quickly as possible.

- A further update to the CBSSG terms was published on Saturday 8 August 2020 as a follow on to the previous scheme which ran out on 3 August 2020. Bus services across the country were to receive up to £218.4m of support over the next eight weeks, with rolling funding at up to £27.3m per week afterwards, until a time when the funding is no longer needed.
- A joint concern was raised by Operators and Local Authorities following the announcement that children would return to school in September and social distancing on Local Buses would still apply. As there would be a requirement for additional vehicles to be contracted in to provide duplicates, in early August the Government announced that £43,999,868 would be allocated to 79 councils, combined authorities, unitary authorities and Transport for London (TfL) to cover the requirement for additional dedicated transport up to the October 2020 half term. In early October, the DfE announced that the funding would continue to the end of the Autumn term. It was subsequently extended to the February 2021 half term.
- To coincide with the ending of CBSSG planned for 31 August 2021, the Government announced that a total of £226.4m under the name of Bus Recovery Grant would be made available to the UK bus industry for the period to 31 March 2022 paid again directly to each operator rather than via the local authority. There were some changes to the terms and conditions including being able to make limited changes to fares and mileage compared to pre covid levels should be close to 90% with reduced payments for miles more than that. Operators were expected to complete a raft of schedules detailing costs and revenue to support their claim.

As explained above, BRG is expected to cease at the end of March this year and at the time of writing, no firm replacement funding has been announced. It is rumoured that it is likely to be continuing until July however this is not confirmed but would be seen as a reasonable alternative to the cliff edge that will be faced otherwise. In the absence of any certainty, some operators are making plans for service cuts to match the current patronage levels, and it is more likely that concessionary reimbursement reductions will be phased in from April 2022 at a 10% reduction each two months until the reimbursement to operators matches that due on a per passenger basis.

With Government's plan B advice issued just after Christmas to work from home, along with the mandatory use of face coverings on public transport creating a further decline in the demand for buses together with an increase in staff absence, the hope of EP funding being a positive solution from April was the bright light near the end of the tunnel. That light has gone back to being a flicker.

GENERAL

STAFFORDSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL

No decision has been reached on the submitted £113m Bus Service Improvement Plan, the DfT having indicated that a decision would be available in January/February, somewhat later than the original date of November/December. The County has decided to implement an Enhanced Partnership (EP) model from 1 April 2022, but this required the agreement of operators of a substantial number of services in the county. Objections to the scheme were received from D&G Bus Ltd., Midland Classic Ltd., and B P Brown Travel Ltd t/a Select Bus Services who between them operate more than 25% of qualifying local services in the county.

As a result, the county is now required to work through objections with each of the operators concerned and to revise the proposed EP agreement if appropriate before proceeding again with the formal steps for an EP, incorporating where necessary any changes that may be required when funding is announced.

The Council has committed to waiting for the funding announcement but working closely with all Staffordshire operators in the intervening period. As explained earlier, the DfT's 31 March 2022 deadline to have an Enhanced Partnership and a supporting Enhanced Partnership Scheme in place has been amended relieving what would potentially have been a very tight timetable for all parties involved.

STRATFORD-UPON-AVON

Roadworks in Stratford-upon-Avon town centre have closed Wood Street from 16 January to 31 March 2022 and put Bridge Street off limits for bus services. All Stagecoach Midlands services, plus Johnsons Park & Ride are terminating at Windsor Street coach park for the duration. All other Johnsons services terminate in Guild Street. Warwickshire County Council notices state that Pulhams 51 (Stratford - Moreton-in-Marsh) was also to terminate in Guild Street, but on 24 January it was still terminating in Bridge Street.

WOLVERHAMPTON CITY CENTRE

Salop Street is closed from 10 January to 31 July for public realm improvements. National Express West Midlands 2 (Bushbury Hill to Warstones) and 16 (to Stourbridge) are diverted via Peel Street and Pitt Street; 1 (Tettenhall Wood to Dudley), 3 (Castlecroft to Fordhouses), 4 (from i54), 10/10A/10B (from Perton/Pattingham/Codsall), 15/15A (from Merry Hill) and 61 (to Goldthorn Hill) are diverted via Peel Street, Pitt Street, Temple Street and Summer Row; while 5 (from Codsall) is diverted via Ring Road St Peters, Stafford Street and Broad Street.
